Geometry lovers rejoice! Dsignio (http://www.dsignio.com/productdesign/) has created a new collection of wall coverings for Harmony by Peronda (http://www.harmony-peronda.com) called GEN (http://www.peronda.com/75757_es/DSIGNIO-Gen/), and it's a geometry enthusiast's dream come true.

Based on science and genetics (thus its name), GEN is a modular wall covering system which can be pieced together to create different patterns using minimal elements. It was inspired by genes within nature, and how only a few core amino acids can combine to create different genomes and species.

As a result, it's not only just a wall covering, it is a way of covering walls. It adapts to the owners' tastes, and can be put together a dozen different ways to offer a variety of shapes and visual games.
